some details have yet to be adjusted and minor matters smoothed out before Lord Reading, representing Great Britain and France and J. P. Morgan and his associates, representing the financiers of America signing articles of agreement consummating the lengthy negotiations looking to the establishment of a big Anglo-French credit loan here.

Not the least of these details, it developed tonight is the size of the loan. The representatives of Great Britain and France it was said on excellent authority have been told that the maximum amount they can get is $500,000,000. In reply, it is reported, they have told the American bankers that they need more and that more will be expected. Interest Not to Exceed Five Percent. Sir Edward Holden, representing the joint stock banks of London, which stand high among the financial bulwarks of Britain and one of the dominating figures of the commission, was reported to have stood firmly on the ground that the commission's need was far more than a half billion dollars and that the max-

A five per cent rate was then reluctantly offered, it was said, with the understanding that the debt was the positive assurance that this rate would not be exceeded.

Greater to U. S. Than Allies.

Throughout the period of negotiation until a day or so ago, it was said on good authority, the commission had dominated the situation, pointing out to American financiers that the need for the establishment of the loan was greater to the United States than to either Great Britain or France. Quite a few American bankers it was said tonight had shared this view, although all were in accord as to the desirability of establishing the credit on sufficiently liberal terms could be obtained.

Tonight it was said that there might be an announcement within a few days or that possibly a week would elapse before an announcement would be issued. American bankers in sympathy with the commissions' view said that matters were progressing very satisfactorily, that there had been no friction between the commission and American financiers and that it had been expected all along that considerable time would have to be spent in negotiations before their success could be announced. The commission late today issued an announcement denying, categorically reports that there had been such friction.

The commission's callers today including several notable financiers were optimistic as to the outlook but indicated that the loan would not exceed a half billion

Away With Old Ideas.

According to a Chicago story, the hotel register flat book is now out of date and a card index system is to take the place of the "old fashioned" register. The change is designed in order to give greater privacy to hotel patrons and may be looked upon by them with favor. But people who have been accustomed to go to hotel and scan the register's pages for the names of possible friends will miss the old books. And if the card index plan is adopted by the hotels in the smaller cities, what will become of the ambitious traveling advertising solicitor who has made his livelihood by "lighting" in the smaller cities for a day or two by putting over a scheme of selling advertising space surrounding the hotel register?

Veteran Ranks Are Dwindling.

A Washington report just published indicates that during the past year there has been a decrease in the Civil War pension roll of nearly ten per cent, a total of 396,370 union veterans remaining on the roll July 1, which is 33,255 less than a year ago. Emphasis will be laid on this fact at the national encampment of the G. A. R. soon to be held in Washington. And with the passing years more and more honor will be paid to the veterans at their national encampment as the people realize how rapidly the ranks of the old soldiers are being depleted.

While the country has never been lacking in reverence for the veterans or in recognition of the value of their services to the union, world events in the past year or two and the talk of the possibilities of war, have brought to more pointed notice the services which the men in blue rendered in 1861 to '65. Payments to civil war pensioners during the year totaled $156,668,771, and the people do not grudge this expenditure, but rather look with some feeling of regret on the lessened total of each year because behind the figures is the written story of a rapidly disappearing Grand Army.

Burton Sees Higher Money Rates.

While many lines of business have been greatly stimulated by the war and the demand for munitions has caused a great deal of mercantile activity, the conflict is to have the opposite effect along some lines if the prediction of Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio comes true. Speaking at a banquet of the Investment Bankers' association in Denver recently Senator Burton declared that because of the war there will come an enormous decrease in the capital available for investment. As a result of this decrease he pointed out that there will be a temporary shrinkage in the volume of commercial and industrial activities and that expenditures for rehabilitation and construction work will be given the preference over those for the development of any new enterprises.

The senator believes, too, that higher rates of interest will prevail and that the investing public will show a greater discrimination in choosing the places where they will invest their money. It is his opinion, too, that those enterprises he classed as domestic will suffer, and that there will consequently be little building of electric railways within or between cities, and that extensions of steam roads will very likely show decline.

Comstock's Good Work.

Anthony Comstock is dead and so the government officials are spared any embarrassment that they have felt about abolishing his position as a U. S. mail inspector, for there have been frequent demands for his dismissal. For more than a quarter of a century Anthony Comstock held that position and although no great salary is attached, the influence it gave him was very large. It must be admitted that Comstock did not always use his authority judiciously, but nevertheless he did a great work. Like so many other reformers—men who have seen evil and have gone for it with unglued hands—he was much maligned and continually held up to ridicule. But through all the years Comstock kept steadfastly at his task and it is said that as a result of his work more than 4,000 cases were prosecuted against people who were using the U. S. mails improperly. It is very largely due to his work and that of people who cooperated with him that the U. S. mails have been so purified that it is rare indeed that anything of an obscene or salacious character passes through them. Comstock was a crank, no doubt, but he has not lived in vain.

Clean Up! Every Citizen's Duty.

The eradication of filth is in part the duty of every citizen, and each should see that his own surroundings are in a satisfactory condition. He should guard again carelessness in the maintenance and preparation of food and withhold his patronage from those who disregard the rules of cleanliness remembering that the foods which are most subject to contamination are milk and its products, oysters and vegetables. The role of flies in the dissemination of the infection is now generally recognized. The limitation of such fly-breeding places as garbage, manure and filth is the most essential, but the proper screening of houses and the adoption of destructive measures are also of great prophylactic value. If, in spite of these precautions, the disease develops, it then becomes the duty of every citizen to implicitly follow the instructions given in order that the safety of others may not be imperiled, bearing in mind the fact that every case of typhoid fever is due to someone's ignorance or carelessness. No higher duty of citizenship than this can be conceived.

Mr. Tanner Termed a Great Leader.

Frederick C. Tanner, formerly of Jacksonville and now of New York city has been for several years prominent in New York politics and thus a national figure. Since he was elevated to the important post of chairman of the New York state central committee, Mr. Tanner has given further evidence of his great ability as a leader and organizer. He is a politician of the statesman type and his great work in framing progressive policies in the New York constitutional convention is related in an article which appears in another column. That he is classed in influence with Elihu Root, Henry L. Stimson and men of that caliber is indicative of the proud place that Mr. Tanner's strong mentality, and resourceful energy have won. These characteristics are strengthened by a personality which always ingratiates.

Newspapers and magazines have joined in accrediting to Mr. Tanner great influence in shaping the report of the New York constitutional convention. Frederick M. Davenport, head of the department of economics and political science at Hamilton college, a New York State senator when Hughes was governor, and progressive candidate for governor in 1914, had an article recently in The Independent with "Elihu Root—Progressive," as the theme. In this article the writer pays tribute to the ability of Mr. Root and commends him for much that the constitutional convention accomplished. Mr. Davenport declares that not a great deal was expected from the convention, since most of the delegates were of the hand picked variety. Then he goes on to say that the advance stand taken on various questions was attributable to "a few leaders of liberal mind such as Henry L. Stimson and Frederick C. Tanner and John Lord O'Brian and others of that stamp."

As Springfield Sees Us.

The Register—The people of Jacksonville refused to set aside the commission form of government and go back to the old aldermanic system. The attempt on the part of the politicians of Jacksonville to discredit this form of government was without avail. Jacksonville has given this form of government four years trial. During that time there has been considerable dissatisfaction on the part of certain political interests who have been unable to control the city as of former years.

The commission government for cities has come to stay. Wherever that form of government has been placed on trial it has been such a pronounced improvement over the old aldermanic system as to positively convince the better element of the voters of its effectiveness.

Jacksonville Stands Pat.

News-Record—Jacksonville likes its sample of the commission form of government. It defeated a proposition to return to the aldermanic form by a vote of two to one. Friends of the old happy-go-lucky manner of running the city hoped that mistakes and omissions of the new commission had disgusted the citizens. And perhaps they had. But the disgust was not deep enough to make them forget the bad taste the aldermanic form left in their mouths.

The voters no doubt reasoned that between two bad propositions, they must choose the least objectionable, and this proved to be the present form. This is the sentiment in practically every city which has the commission form of government. The citizens are disappointed because the new system has failed to bring the Utopian conditions its advocates promised it would bring. But they are not blind to the fact that almost anything is an improvement on the old system.

The truth is, no satisfactory scheme of municipal government has been found. All have weaknesses. Commission form is an experimental step. From it the progressive city must go forward not backward.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

Washington—Mrs. Harrie Chambers Adams, one of ten woman explorers in the world, is planning one of the most difficult trips of her career. She has traveled through Mexico and South America on a 40,000 mile trip, visiting many countries never seen by a white woman. She crossed Haiti in the saddle, the only white woman ever to cross that island. She has also toured the jungles of the Philippines. Her next effort, she recently told a reporter here, will be from the Mediterranean to Bagdad, to Teheran and to Russian Turkestan and down into India. Mrs. Adams is a California woman. She travels for the pure love of adventure and study of the out-of-the-way places. Her husband is the editor of the publications of the Pan-American Union in Washington.

Washington—Four great organizations of women in close relationship to the Grand Army of the Republic are to meet here next week, each in its own national encampment and all uniting to do honor to the warriors and make their semi-centennial celebration a notable tribute to the nation's gratitude. The Woman's Relief corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R.

the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans and an independent organization known as the Daughters of Veterans are the four bodies who will bring the womanly touch to the encampment of the old soldiers. Representatives of the four societies have formed a committee with Mrs. M. E. Andrews as chairman. Mrs. Andrews has also appointed a large committee of distinguished women, from social and official life, and an honorary committee consisting of Miss Margaret Wilson and the wives of members of the cabinet.

San Francisco—What will American girls do next? Is the question in quaint old Honolulu. When the liner Korea docked here a few weeks ago, a dashing Ohio beauty, Miss Barbara Wicks was the heroine of the passengers. She had swam to miles from the ship in Honolulu Bay in the dazzling moonlight, alone and unaided and spent the night on the beach. When the Korea was held at quarantine at Honolulu on her arrival from China and Japan, Miss Wicks was tempted by the strains of weird Hawaiian music to slip over the vessel's side and swim ashore. The adventure was carried out, and when the ship docked the girl was on the pier, fully dressed, and welcoming her ship-mates.

Philadelphia—Dr. Lucy L. W. Wilson, the famous biologist, has brought back from New Mexico, where she has been digging in the remote caverns and cliff dwellings, with Indians as her aides, many relics of prehistoric man. Skeletons, pottery and primitive utensils she gathered galore, and she will use these to reveal vividly the life of the early red man. Last July, armed with a special permit from the department of the Interior, Dr. Wilson entered the Jemez National forest of New Mexico. She made friends with the local Indians and lived with them to study their modern condition. With her Indian diggers, she uncovered ancient apartment houses, containing hundreds of rooms, including temples. Thirty-six rooms were dug out and their relics secured.

New Orleans—Mother Superior Catherine M. Draxel, daughter of Francis Drexel, one of the wealthiest bankers of Philadelphia, is superintending the final touches of the Southern University of New Orleans, which will be opened on Monday to colored students. Mother Draxel, who gave up her immense fortune to church work, and is devoting her talents to education and uplift, has been directing laborers and mapping out the plans for the University opening. For twenty-seven years she has labored with the poorest of the poor, all she possesses having been given to the cause of Indian and negro education. The new University is another monument to the philanthropy which she bestowed.

Chicago—The German-American socialists have arranged for a speaking tour of the United States by Alexander Kollentay, one of the leading women of the International Socialist movement. She is a Russian, of noble family, but has been exiled because of her views. She was arrested in Berlin about a year ago, and then went to the Scandinavian countries where she has been living since. She speaks many languages and is said to be a wonderful woman.

PATIENT COMMITTED SUICIDE AT STATE HOSPITAL

John E. Martin of Macoupin County Ended Life by Hanging Self With a Towel.

John E. Martin, a patient at Jacksonville State hospital, committed suicide by hanging himself with a towel from the head of a bed Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. He was missed by the attendant who was giving the patients on the ward their baths. When he discovered him he was hanging from the head of the bed. Efforts were made by Dr. H. A. Superintendent, Dr. Foley, Dr. Ford and others unsuccessful. Examination revealed the thyroid cartilage had been broken.
Martin was sent to the hospital from Brighton, Macoupin county in 1905. He was paroled Sept. 4, 1906, and returned to the institution Sept. 18, 1906. Dr. Foley in his testimony gave these facts and said that he had known the patient since 1911. He had attempted to commit suicide before but none of the attempts had been of recent date.

After hearing the testimony of the witnesses the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts and hospital authorities were exonerated from all blame. The jury summoned by Deputy Coroner J. M. Carroll was composed of the following: J. M. Wolfe, foreman; George F. Dinsmore, clerk; and J. T. Crowe, J. R. Kirkman, A. A. McColister and H. E. Wheeler.

FREDERICK C. TANNER A POWER IN NEW YORK CONVENTION

Former Jacksonville Man Is Credited With Being in Large Way Responsible for Changes Proposed in New York's Constitution.

Many people in Jacksonville are familiar through the columns of the daily papers, with the fact that the State of New York has recently held a constitutional convention which body adjourned a few weeks ago. It is quite generally known locally that Mr. Frederick C. Tanner, who was born and educated in this city, was a member of that convention, but comparatively few realize the importance of the chairmanship that he held in the convention, or the very conspicuous part that he had in the deliberations of the assembly.

Mrs. E. O. Hillips, a widely known political writer on the staff of the Chicago Tribune, and at one time a student of Illinois College, recently had an article in the Tribune, giving a resume of the new Constitution, which will be submitted to the people of New York for approval in November. The following paragraphs are taken from the article by Mr. Phillips:

Short Ballot and Budget.—The two outstanding features of the new constitution which have won for the document the support of those New Yorkers who have been fighting for better things in state and municipal government are the short ballot and the creation of the executive budget as a preliminary to legislative appropriations.

The short ballot article, so strongly supported by Elihu Root in his notable speech last Monday, is considered by the political reform leaders as the most far reaching development of the convention. It was handled by Frederick C. Tanner, formerly of Jacksonville, Ill., now chairman of the Republican state committee of New York. It cuts the number of elective state officers to four—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and comptroller. The last two went into the constitution largely through compromise. The short ballot leaders now realize that they did not have to compromise as to the attorney general and probably could have defeated the political demand that the office of comptroller, with its great patronage and peculiar power, be elective. The disposition was to compromise where necessary, looking forward to the election of submission.

Number of Boards Reduced.—The number of boards and separate commissions which have been exercising executive functions is cut from 152 to 17. The governor has the supreme and exclusive power of naming all of the appointive officials, only a few minor places requiring the confirmation of the senate. He has the right of summary removals of the same.

The theory is that the entire and perfect responsibility of state government should be placed squarely upon his shoulders. His term of office is two years, at an annual salary of $20,000. It is urged that this is an effective and conservative recall from a New York viewpoint.

The governor is required to submit to the legislature at the beginning of the session a complete itemized budget of estimated expenditures for the ensuing year. The legislature may cut down this budget, but it may not increase it in any item. The idea is that the governor shall supply to the legislature and to the public that information which he may have which leads to his veto or approval of legislative acts following the adjournment of the general assembly.

As a general proposition, the new constitution is one which appeals strongly to the men who have held the aggressive in the contest against invisible government and political methods which have been supreme in New York City and Albany.

Elihu Root was president of the constitutional convention and the committee leaders were Geo. W. Wickesham, Seth Low, Herbert Parsons, Henry L. Stimson, William Barnes, Jacob G. Shurman, Frederick C. Tanner, Louis Marshall, Edgar T. Brackett, Alphonso T. Clearwater and Geo. Clinton, Sr.

Mr. Tanner has had a remarkable rise to prominence in the political world, having been prominent in New York City and New York State politically for ten years, and being known as the youngest assembly leader in the State. He was an alternative in the Republican National Convention of 1908, and an uninstructed delegate to the Republican Convention of 1912. A little over a year ago, he was elected chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of New York, succeeding Wm. H. Barnes, and directed the campaign that resulted in the election of Governor Whitman. His participation in the revision of the basic law of the empire state of the union has been notable in many respects, and as a parliamentarian and leader in debate on the floor has been a prominent figure in all the deliberations of the convention.

The legion of Mr. Tanner's friends in Jacksonville and elsewhere are watching his career with great interest, and believe that greater honors are in store for him in the field of political achievement.

MAINE LOG CABIN NOW SCHOOL IN OZARKS

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 23.—In the famous Maine building which stood in the fair grounds in St. Louis, a building made from big cedars from the Maine woods, deserving children of the Ozark mountains are now bending over their books. The Maine building was one of the rustic spots of the St. Louis exposition. Later a group of millionaires bought the long building, had the logs shipped to Hollister, and rebuilt the house as it stood at the fair. Luxuriously furnished, it was the mecca of tired millionaires until the Rev. Charles R. Nisbet of this city, one of the trustees of the School of the Ozarks, secured the use of it. The original school for the education of boys and girls to become good farmers and efficient housewives was burned last January. The trustees of the school are prominent people of Missouri, and thirty scholarships are given annually to worthy boys and girls.

OLD RESIDENT RETURNS.

Benjamin F. Ogle of Granby, Mo., is in the city for a visit with his brother, J. B. Ogle. Mr. Ogle was born in the Arcadia neighborhood, but left as a young man and has not been in Morgan county for forty-nine years. He has no near relatives living in Arcadia and in Jacksonville he sees little that is familiar. Mr. Ogle's home is in the lead and zinc mining region, eighteen miles from Joplin. Zinc, since the outbreak of the war has been mounting in price and the mining region in southwest Missouri has prospered accordingly. Wednesday, Mr. Ogle made a visit to the state fair. The crops along the road to Springfield he thought especially good. Mr. Ogle has seen no better corn, he declares, for thirty years.

TRIO GUNMEN FACE GALLOWS AT LOS ANGELES

One of Men Convicted of Murder of Retired Millionaire Declares He Formerly Lived in This State.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 23.—Charles E. Oxniam and Glenn Witt, the slayers of William M. Alexander, millionaire retired attorney, formerly of Dallas, Tex., must face the gallows tomorrow. Oxniam, the son of a former minister, is only 18 years old. He was born in Idaho, and led a roving life during the past few years. Witt is 24, and says he comes from Duquoin, Ill.

On December 22 last, the youths entered the Alexander home here to rob the place. They were discovered by Alexander. Alexander's son came to the rescue, and then the shooting began. The elder Alexander was killed on the spot, and his son exchanged shots with the burglars. During the struggle, the two daughters of Alexander appeared with the hair-brushes and beat the robbers over the heads. The burglars made their escape and were rounded up the same day.

William M. Alexander, the victim of the gunmen, was a native of Athens, Tenn., where he was educated. He went to Texas, became a lawyer and developed a large practice at Dallas. He was counsel for many railroads and other corporations. The family removed to Washington, D. C., about three and a half years ago, where the daughters, Misses Penelope and Louise, who figured so valiantly in the struggle with the robbers, attended school. Last year the Alexanders were in Europe, and had come to Los Angeles only a week before the fatal robbery last December. Mrs. Alexander is the daughter of the late Judge S. Y. Hoksett, a pioneer citizen of Fort Worth, Tex. She was about to give the robbers her rings and gems, when the gun-fire began, and her husband, mortally wounded, fell into her arms.

The execution of Witt will take place tomorrow at Folsom Prison, and Oxniam will hang at the same time in San Quentin Prison. They were convicted in January, and appealed their case to the State Supreme Court. The appeal failed and execution was set for September 24.

HAS FAITH IN QUICK REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Coover & Shreve Guarantee That Hyomei Will Relieve the Worst Cases of Catarrh in Jacksonville.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Jacksonville guarantees that a medicine will produce benefit or they will refund the money, it speaks volumes for the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that Coover & Shreve are selling Hyomei the treatment that has helped so many cases of both acute and chronic catarrh in Jacksonville and vicinity. Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a spray or a lotion that must be rubbed in. It is an oil, the air of which you just breathe in your nose, throat and lungs by the aid of an inhaler that comes with every outfit. Benefit will usually be seen from the very first treatment.

This air destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with the additional ozone it supplies. It banishes catarrh of the head and throat and respiratory organs. Wherever these mucous membranes contain catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow the balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not relieve you Coover & Shreve will refund your money. This is a good time to get rid of catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.—(Adv.)

Rippling Rhymes

One fellow falls in life's great busy game, because his rags hang shapeless on his frame; his trousers lag around his spavined knees, his whiskers shelter hummingbirds and bees. His hair, unshingled, forms an ugly wreath, his shoes are brown, he doesn't clean his teeth; he always looks as though he'd been asleep in some straw stack or ancient rubbish heap. To get a job he ambles down the earth, explaining that he's long on sterling worth. "Give me a chance," all eagerly he pleads, "judge not my rags, but judge me by my deeds. I'll eat more woad, and keep more bugbears warm, than any dude who is the model of form." But people judge by how a man appears; they view the whiskers that conceal his ears, the tangled hair that forms a measly rug, the shirtfront stained with juice of navy plug, the coat that needs a soaking in the brook, the trousers that like twin corkscrews look, and they exclaim, "Get hence! Skeddadle! Speed! We have no place for such a bo as you!" True worth may dwell in careless, slouchy chaps, but they must carry heavy handicaps.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is apt to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to so lubricate the muscles and to thus so relieve the pressure reacting on the nerves, that the natural strain upon the cords and ligaments is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many other distressing conditions. It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

They have used it during the period when they could realize the value of timely and helpful advice. That is why they recommend it.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continual use since our grandmothers' earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women talk about and gladly recommend to prospective mothers.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to-day and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address: Bradford Regulator Co., 507 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

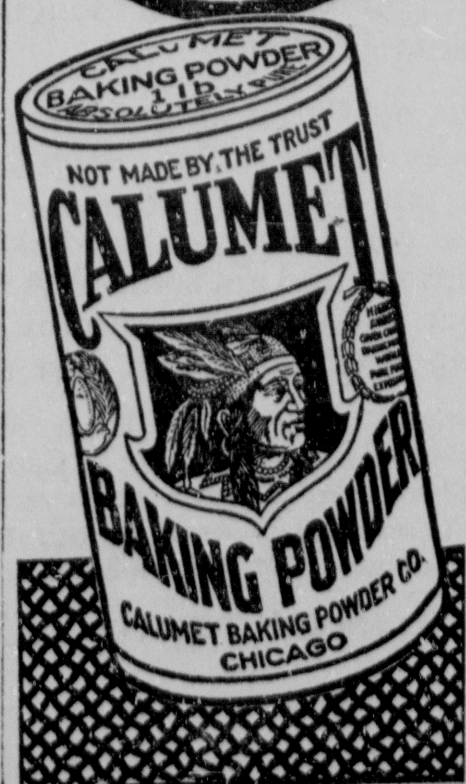

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Chicago went into last place today when it lost both games of a double header to Philadelphia while New York defeated St. Louis.

The league leaders won the first game easily by bunting hits behind the loose playing of the locals. Alexander, although unsteady, worked his best in the pinches. It was his thirtieth victory of the season. Erratic playing behind Douglas cost him the second game.

DASHING RED SOX ANNEX TWO MORE

CLEVELAND IS VICTIM OF THE AFTERNOON.

Boston Was Pressed Closely in the First Game When Joe Wood Weakened—White Hose Defeat Washington By Score of 2 to 1.

Boston, Sept. 23.—The Boston Red Sox today gained two more victories at the expense of Cleveland. The visitors pressed Boston closely in the first game when Joe Wood, pitching his first game in a month, weakened. Combe who succeeded Kieper in the fourth kept his hits scattered, except in the fifth and seventh.

A triple by Roth grew into a tally in Cleveland's fourth, singles by Evans, Wambsganss and Combe produced two runs in the seventh and the visitor approached within one run of Boston when they added another off of May's delivery on a single by Roth and Kieper's double in the eighth.

The second game was won by Boston almost at the start and Roth soon gave way to Collamore. Roth whose hard hitting has been a feature of the series, knocked the ball over the high left field fence for a homer in the fourth. Score:

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

PURCHASE OF CANADIAN WHEAT FOR IMPORT CAUSES SETBACK

Subsequent to the failure to overcome Greater Part of the Deficiency—Corn Also Suffers Loss.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Wheat prices suffered a sharp break today largely as a result of the purchase of Canadian wheat to be imported into the United States. The market closed unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cts lower with December at 84 1/2 cts and May at 96 cts. Corn lost 1/2 cts to 1 cts, oats a sixteenth off to 1 1/4 cts and provisions at a rise of 2 1/2 to 2 cts.

Despite the fact that the actual amount of Canadian wheat bought for import was only 50,000 bushels the bearish effect was far reaching and quick. The market which previously had been on the advance owing to fear that contract stocks would prove too meager to fill Sept. deliveries, was now plunged the bearish effect on prices proved downward. Subsequent rallies failed to overcome the greater part of the decline. A contributing reason for sentiment turning against the bulls was the announcement that a large elevator company here was proceeding to clean 500,000 of Number 1 velvet chaff before September options expired. In such case any question would be avoided as to whether or not the delivery would be valid, regardless of how the board of trade directors might rule as to velvet chaff which had not been cleaned.

County offerings of spring wheat in the northwest increased materially notwithstanding that early in the day reports were current that consignments of Minnesota wheat to Minneapolis showed a falling off.

It was said that one of the principal northern railways handled more loaded cars of wheat than ever before in the history of the line and that greatly increased receipts were expected at Minneapolis next week. Liberal tenders from first hands weakened corn. The weather was favorable and eastern inquiry slow. Oats held within narrow limits. Flow seemed to be no pressure to sell.

OUR BIG DAY

Everybody Came to See Us.

In response to recent notices wherein Professor Munyon guaranteed to refund the money in every instance where his remedies fail to give satisfaction, people with all sorts of ailments called for all sorts of his remedies. The big demand, however, seems to be for his Paw-Paw Laxative Pills. They're certainly giving satisfaction. One benefited person tells another of their curative qualities, and so the demand increases. Professor Munyon wants us to continue to impress upon every person who suffers with stomach or liver ailments, and particularly all constipated people, to try Paw-Paw Laxative Pills. He says they correct indigestion and school the bowels to act every day in a natural way. If your complexion is bad, if you have dizzy spells, if you are bilious and if you have impure blood, get a bottle of these Pills, with the understanding that if you are not satisfied your money will be returned. No griping, no weakening effect, just a pleasant, natural movement every day. You get well almost unconsciously. Professor Munyon warns the public against the use of the old-fashioned cathartics, which scour and debilitate. If you have an ache or pain of any kind, you better come in and try one of Munyon's Remedies. Also don't forget that we are carrying his Witch Hazel Soap, the best toilet soap ever sold at 10 cents a cake.

PEORIA WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. W. L. McClellan, of Peoria, suffered torture from indigestion, gas, belching and other symptoms of stomach trouble. She spent large sums of money for doctors' advice and medicine. Still her condition did not improve. She found relief, wonderful, surprising relief in a drug store window. This is her story, as she tells it: "I suffered so from distention and colicky pains that at times I was completely incapacitated for my household work. I saw a window display of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and decided to purchase a bottle, which I did. I have taken only one bottle and the results have been really wonderful. I have not had a pain in my stomach since, and let me say that for the first time in many, many months, two days following I have had a natural movement of the bowels. I feel I cannot say enough for the remarkable virtues of your remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

ETAWAH LOWERS HIS OWN RECORD

GEERS' HORSE TROTS MILE IN 2:03 FLAT.

Pronounced Favorites Win All Four Races of Day's Grand Circuit Program Without Loss of a Single Heat—Best Time of Week Made.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—Pronounced favorites not only won the four races on today's Grand Circuit program but they did so without the loss of a heat. Not a driving finish was seen. The time average was the best of the week and Etawah found the track good enough for the lowering of his record, the Geers' horse finishing the mile in 2:03 flat after carrying him a fast first half in the than a minute. A breeze hindered him and all the other horses through the last quarter. Queen Abbess, winner of the 2:10 pace showed her quality when she stepped the final heat in 2:04 1-2. Napoleon Direct made the fastest time of the week when he did the second heat of the free-for-all pace in 2:02 1-4, a second slower than his record made last week at Syracuse. Anna Bradford carried him a fast first half in the opening mile but a break on the far turn dropped the black mare to the rear and she did no more contending.

Lizzie Brown almost equalled her record in each of the first two heats of the Capital City trot. At Syracuse she won in 2:06 1-4. Today she did 2:06 1-2 twice, never being hard pressed by Lucile Spier. Bonington, the second choice in the race could not be controlled and was distanced in the second heat.

Ames Abbingen brought the first victory of the week to the McDonald stable. Practically all of the time in each of the heats he was out in front.

WILD OATS.

There are two kinds of agriculturalists. One kind sows tame oats in the country fields and the other sows wild oats on the Great White ways.

Tame oats are sown in the spring, but wild oats are sown all the year round. Tame oats are sown between day break and sunset, but the most successful wild oat agriculturalists start putting in the crop about midnight and ride home with the milk-in the morning. Tame oats will not grow without rain, but if there is anything that isn't, necessary in raising a crop of wild oats it is water—except in minute quantities as a chaser.

If the young man who has a large quantity of wild oats to put in usually dresses for the job very carefully. He wears all the clothes his tailor will trust him for. And yet sowing wild oats is infinitely harder on clothes than the other job. Night after night, the sower will come home with his plug hat mashed down over his ears and one tail of dress coat unaccounted for. This proves that the wild oats farmer is a fool. He should swathe himself in blue overalls and wear a two-acre straw hat which does not soil easily. People would send for the insanity commission if a farmer were discovered putting in tame oats in a plug hat and Prince Albert. But said plug hat would last seven years longer in a tame oat field than it usually does in the wild oats business.

The bona fide farmer puts in all his oats in a few days, but the happy young man with the soft pompadour hair and the pellet of gray matter under his left ear sows wild oats with industry for a much as ten years at a time, frequently working twenty-four hours a day at the job. Wild oats were formerly sown by hand, but machinery is getting into the field of course and at present most of them are sown by automobile. An earnest tiller in a fast automobile with a few assistants can sow enough wild oats in one evening to reap about four decades of unavailing regrets spotted with divorce suits, personal injury damages and red-nosed gloom.

The cost of sowing wild oats depends on the sower. It usually takes all he has and the crop can't be marketed for seven cents. Still the wild oat sower is very scornful of the plain and freckled farmer and laughs loudly at his foolishness in sticking to the unilluminated style of agriculture. It is quite safe to do anything at which the wild oats sower laughs loudly.

TYPHOID FEVER EPIDEMIC STRIKES MENARD COUNTY

Over One Hundred Cases Are Reported in Community—Chicago Has Made Great Progress in Preventing This Disease.

Physicians over the state, as well as those interested in public health questions, are doubly concerned over the matter of typhoid fever in Illinois. Notwithstanding the precautions advised through the State Board of Health, in several localities an epidemic of the disease has been reported. In Petersburg and Menard county an epidemic exists, in fact to such a great extent that the Board of County Commissioners of Menard county have requested the State Board of Health to take charge of the work of suppressing the disease. Naturally health authorities have attributed the unusual wet season to the prevalence of the malady, yet this cannot be wholly a cause as in some sections of the state typhoid is almost unknown.

Some comparison of figures relative to typhoid furnishes food for thought. Chicago has a population of 2,185,283 according to the last census. From a report of Dr. John Dill Robertson, commissioner of health of Chicago, the number of cases of typhoid fever in Chicago at the present time is unusually low. There were 82 cases of fever reported during the month of August 1915, as compared with 128 cases during the same month last year, and several of them did not originate in the city. The same decrease in the number of cases is also shown in the death rate. There were 11 deaths from typhoid fever in August, 1915, as compared with 17 in August, one year ago. Since Sept. 1, there have been reported 64 cases against 87 for the same period in 1914. From this report it is seen that Chicago has one case of typhoid fever for about every 26,000 people, which is certainly a low rate.

In Jacksonville with a population of 15,326 it is estimated that during the month of August there were 15 cases. With a basis of fifteen it is readily computed that one person out of every 1000 is afflicted with typhoid. Not alone in Jacksonville but through the county there are a number of cases. The condition is not one to cause alarm but is serious enough to warrant all joining in a "clean-up" campaign to prevent typhoid fever. Be sure to drink pure water and observe all rules of cleanliness and sanitation.

Conditions in Menard County.

No portion of Illinois has such an epidemic of typhoid at present as does Petersburg and Menard county. In Petersburg alone there are 80 cases. In Athens, sixteen in Greenview, 9, with a number reported in various parts of the county, making a total of something over 120 cases. Menard county has a population of 12,796. This means that one person out of every 106 in the county is afflicted with the disease. Figuring on the city of Petersburg alone which has but 2,587 population, estimating 70 cases in the city it would mean that one out of every 37 has the typhoid.

Chicago has been fighting typhoid for a number of years and has looked well into the water supply and the sanitary conditions of the city. In Chicago people do not get water from wells which are likely to be contaminated by water from unwholesome sources.

This is more true in cities than the country. Chicago water is purified and there is no question about what a whole lot of typhoid is caused through bad water. There is also danger from bad milk, vegetables that are unclean, unsanitary conditions about toilets, and cats and dogs are known to be carriers of germs.

Typhoid Vaccination. Through the reports of the United States Public Health service, it is learned that there is an enormous increase in the number of persons seeking anti-typhoid fever vaccination. It is estimated that during 1914 over 100,000 persons throughout the country were immunized and it is expected that the figures for 1915 will reach 300,000. The reduction of the case rate in the army from 566 per 100,000 before the discovery of anti-typhoid vaccine, to three since inoculation was made compulsory, may not pass unnoticed. Anti-typhoid vaccination is quite as simple as that for small pox and even children do not complain. If immunization for typhoid attains the general recognition that small pox prevention has secured, it is fair to say that typhoid will be a rare disease in 1930.

To Vaccinate Patients.

Dr. P. M. Kelly, superintendent of the Kankakee state hospital, has ordered a vaccination of all the patients and attendants in the institution, some 4000 in number, and has requested Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health, to supply him with typhoid vaccine virus for that purpose.

As has formerly been mentioned in the Journal all citizens should unite in every way with the health authorities in suppressing the disease, and there does not seem any reason why the number of typhoid fever cases should not be yearly reduced in the city and surrounding country.

GREAT DANGER TO WHEAT FROM THE HESSIAN FLY

All Volunteer Wheat Should Be Destroyed at Once, According to University Circular Just Issued.

Stephen A. Forbes, state entomologist, has issued the following important warning to farmers relative to the dangers from the Hessian fly:

"On October 2 of last year I sent to a thousand Illinois papers a brief notice of the fact that the volunteer wheat growing in the stubble fields was very heavily infested throughout the state by an early generation of the Hessian fly, present there in all stages from the young larva or maggot to the winged insect, just beginning to emerge and lay its eggs on the leaves of the young wheat of the regular sowing. Farmers were consequently earnestly advised to plow under all volunteer wheat without delay, to prevent a disastrous infestation of the new crop. How generally this warning and advice took effect last fall I have no means of knowing; but the conditions of this year require me to repeat both with increased emphasis. The unusually wet summer throughout the state has given extraordinary opportunity for an abundant growth of volunteer wheat, and this is now widely and heavily infested with the Hessian fly about two weeks earlier than was the case last year. My field men in central and southern Illinois have been reporting the presence of the fly in volunteer wheat ever since the middle of August; and a summary of the latest of their reports, put into my hands today, will illustrate the conditions found. From September 3 to 11 Mr. S. C. Chandler searched twenty-five fields of wheat stubble in the counties of Randolph, Johnson, Perry, Marion, Jefferson, Williamson, White, and Saline. Carefully examining 741 plants of volunteer wheat in these fields for eggs and larvae of the Hessian fly, he found 6047 eggs—averaging a little over 5 to the plant—and 666 larvae or maggots—a little less than 1 to the plant.

"Field reports began to reach me late in August from central Illinois localities to the effect that the oldest maggots in the volunteer wheat were then beginning to change to the flaxseed stage; and with the weather of the present time, these are probably already beginning to send forth an early fall generation of the winged insects ready to infest young wheat. The great majority of the flies in the volunteer wheat are, however, still in the egg stage, and many that have hatched are much too young to survive if the plants on which they are living are destroyed.

"It thus clearly becomes the duty of every Illinois farmer having volunteer wheat growing in his stubble field or along the borders of his newly plowed fields, to destroy these plants with the least possible delay, thereby both protecting his own crop from immediate infestation from the winged flies which are beginning to come out, and doing his part as a member of his community to save next year's crop from serious injury.

REV. A. L. T. EWERT WILL REMAIN IN DANVILLE

Rev. A. A. White Who Was Booked for Danville Place Wanted Back at Tuscola.

Rev. A. L. T. Ewert, former pastor of Centenary M. E. church here and later district superintendent at Bloomington and for several years past in charge of a pulpit at Danville and who had been transferred from Kimber to the Tuscola Methodist church by action of the recent Methodist conference, was wired by Bishop W. F. McDowell to remain in Danville during the coming year. The action is unprecedented in the history of Danville Methodism and was brought about by peculiar causes.

Rev. A. A. White, of Tuscola, who was assigned to the Kimber change, is very popular with his charge and they objected strenuously to his transference. Sunday morning at the Kimber church a similar demonstration was made. A petition was circulated, asking Bishop McDowell to retain Rev. Mr. Ewert in Danville. More than 80 per cent of the church membership signed the petition. The petition was forwarded to Bishop McDowell, but before he could have had time to receive it the wire came from him to Rev. Mr. Ewert. Members of the Kimber church were well pleased with the action of the bishop and expressed the highest sentiment in favor of Rev. Mr. Ewert remaining in Danville.

APPLES FOR THE SOLDIERS.

If plans under way now are carried out every soldier in the hospitals and trenches in Europe will receive an American apple the early part of November. Some idea of the magnitude of the undertaking may be had when it is known that apple growers who are interested in promoting the proposition estimate that it will require at least 100,000 barrels or 300,000 boxes of apples. Figuring a total of 500 medium sized apples to the barrel it will make a total of 50,000,000 apples. The market value will be approximately $300,000. It is the plan of the growers to charter a ship and ask President Wilson to request the warring nations to grant an armistice for one day for the distribution of the apples. The undertaking is a most commendable one but it will not be carried out unless those who expect to furnish the apples are assured that the fruit will reach its various destinations. The Cannon-Kelly Co. here received a letter outlining the plan in detail.

THOMAS JENKINSON IN ENGLISH CITY GERMAN AIRMEN SOUGHT TO SHELL

Middlesbrough, Point of Attack but Bombs Fell in Town Ten Miles Distant—Letter to Percy Jenkinson Gives Details.

Since England was so many years his home and because his parents and other members of the family live there, Percy Jenkinson is a most interested observer of great war events. Recently Mr. Jenkinson read in the dispatches of an air raid which took the Germans very close to Middlesbrough, and as his father is now at that city visiting a daughter, Mr. Jenkinson was very much concerned as to the welfare of his father.

Yesterday he received a letter from his father telling something about the raid. Middlesbrough is on the northeast coast between York and Durham counties. A great ship yard and iron works are both located there and the raid was evidently designed for the purpose of doing damage to the iron works and the ships in course of construction. It seems, however, that the airship did not reach a point directly over Middlesbrough but the nearest they came was to Skinningrove, a small town ten miles further up the coast. Iron works are also located there, but none of the fifteen bombs dropped did any great damage. Seven of them exploded but they fell at such points that no lives were lost and the damage to property was minor. One of the eight which did not explode dropped within eight feet of a monster oil tank, and the fact that it did not explode meant that a loss of at least a million dollars was obviated.

Mr. Jenkinson's father's home is at Carlisle, but for some weeks he has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Geary, at Middlesbrough. He writes from time to time about the war and the facts he sets forth are of especial interest because they come from one who as a private citizen in England knows well the attitude of the public toward the war. Undoubtedly there is no lacking of patriotic feeling among the people of Great Britain, and although the number of enlisted men has not been as large as in some of the other countries, reports recently made public show that there has been a great increase in the number of volunteers, and that altogether, with its enormous navy, its land forces, and the financial aid that the country has been able to give to Russia, that England's contribution to the cause of the allies is very large. The people of England are ready to make sacrifices and the general feeling of the people is that the war was unavoidable from their country's standpoint and that it must be prosecuted until the cause of the allies succeeds.
